

party, then the first party, his heirs or assigns, may declare this lease at an end and void, and are hereby authorized and empowered to re-enter and take possession of said premises, and attorney and notice of such election and demand of such possession are hereby waived, and without process of law to sell and dispose of such amount of crops as is necessary to pay all indebtedness to first party.

And it is further agreed by and between the parties hereto — and it is further agreed that at the end of this lease, or sooner determination thereof, the second party shall give peaceable possession of the premises to the first party in as good condition as they now are, the usual wear and tear and damage, by the elements alone excepted.

This lease shall not be considered renewed except by the written agreement of the parties, and the covenants and agreements shall extend to and be binding upon the heirs, executors and assigns of all parties hereto.
