

Now that I am for and in consideration of said payment of money and said mortgagor of these bonds, party of the first part has hereby agreed and bound himself, or his successors in office, that in the event the existing laws or ordinances by the Court should be changed in the manner herein set forth and made through a court of law in any manner the equity of said contract of these bonds herein, that he will as soon as possible and at the request of the said party ready to execute and deliver to said second party, his heirs, successors, or assigns, a good and valid assignment or receiving these moneys said said debt, together with said moneys for the same as if legally, lawfully and lawfully received in said former laws, which said these shall conform in all respects to the laws existing at the time same is made, provided it be necessary for the making of said these. The witness whereof, the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals this day and year first

Witness
 One of them
 M. M. DeP.
 M. H. Henningsen

William C. Russell,
 Esquire
 The Honorable J. C. Thompson,
 of Robert & J. Henry,
 President

Acknowledgment:

Secretary

Before me on the day of January 1908 personally appeared William C. Russell, guardian of the estate of Russell, a well known person of legal age to me known to be the identity person who executed the within and foregoing instrument, and he has acknowledged to me that he executed the same as the free and voluntary act