

Affiant further states that at the time said petitions were filed and said orders entered in said probate proceedings aforesaid he was a resident of Tulsa County, Oklahoma, and resided in the community immediately surrounding the City of Broken Arrow; that he saw and read the orders setting ^{the} petition for hearing as published in the Broken Arrow Ledger-Democrat, a newspaper published in said City of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, and had personal knowledge of the fact that said matters were set for hearing and that orders authorizing said guardian to sell the interests of said wards aforesaid were asked for and that he was personally served with copies of said orders setting said petitions for hearing, and at the same time he had no objections to said sale and that he at that time had no control of the said minors, the said J.A. Barth, guardian, having the custody of said ward first named, both as to her person and estate, and Ida McHenry, the mother of the wards last named, having the custody of the persons of the minors last named and their said guardian, K.M. Rowe, having the custody of their said estate.

Affiant states that he makes this affidavit voluntarily and for the purposes aforesaid and none other.
