Bond

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That I, M.J. Johnson as principal and R. J. Allison as surety, are held and firmly bound unto W.D. Bryan in the <sup>Legal</sup> ~~Principal~~ sum of Three Thousand and thirty ($3030.00) dollars for the payment of which, well and truly to be made, we bind ourselves, our heirs, administrators and assigns, firmly by these presents:

WHEREAS, on the 3d day of February, 1910, the above bounden M.J. Johnson purchased the interest of the said W.D. Bryan in the partnership assets of a partnership heretofore existing between the said W.D. Bryan and M. J. Johnson and consisting of a drug store, stock of goods, fixtures, fountain, and all other assets; and

WHEREAS, the said firm of Bryan & Johnson was indebted to various wholesale houses, and others upon the stock of goods in the sum of Three thousand and thirty ($3030.00) dollars, which indebtedness the said M. J. Johnson assumes and agrees to pay;

Now the condition of this obligation is such that if the said M.J. Johnson shall well and truly pay the said indebtedness of Three Thousand and thirty ($3030.00) dollars and shall keep forever harmless the said W.D. Bryan from any damage by reason of said indebtedness or by reason of the failure of the said M.J. Johnson to pay the same, then and in that event this obligation shall be void, otherwise to be and remain in full force and effect.

M. J. Johnson, Principal.

R. J. Allison, Surety.
