vs.

JUDGMENT.

Lewis B. Malone and

Cass M. Bradley,

Defendants.

Now on this 22nd day of October, 1909, being one of the regular days of the October 1909 term of said Court, this cause comes on to be heard in its regular order; and the Plaintiff appeared in person and by his attorneys, and the defendants, Lewis B. Malone and Cass M. Bradley and each of them having been three times called in open Court fail to appear either in person or by attorney, and the Court having ordered that said cause proceed to trial, the plaintiff waived a jury and said cause was tried upon the petition of the Plaintiff herein and the amended answer heretofore filed in this cause, and upon the evidence submitted by the plaintiff, and the Court having heard the evidence and being fully advised in the premises, and having heard the oral testimony of witnesses sworn and examined in open Court; on consideration thereof, finds that all the averments of plaintiffs petition are true as therein set forth; And Court further finds that the defendants are indebted to the Plaintiff, C. W. Mandler, by reason of the execution of a promissory note in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

Muskogee, Ind. Ter. June 22, 1908.

On or before Dec. 21, 1908, after date we promise to pay to the order of Abe Shoults ($450.00) Four Hundred and Fifty and no/100 Dollars with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum from date until paid for value received, negotiable and payable without defalcation or discount Interest not paid at maturity to become principal and bear interest at the same rate.

Lewis B. Malone

Cass M. Bradley.

That on the 23rd day of June, 1909, the said Abe Shoults for a valuable consideration, in good faith, before the same was due, assigned all his right, title and interest in and to said note to the plaintiff, C. W. Mandler.

That the plaintiff is the owner of said described note; that the same is long past due and wholly unpaid; that demand has been made therefor upon the defendants, and each of them, and that payment has been refused.

It is therefore considered, ordered and adjudged by the Court, that the said plaintiff, C. W. Mandler, have and recover from the said defendants the sum of Four Hundred fifty ($450.00) Dollars as the principal sum of said note and the further sum of $45.00 interest due upon said note; with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum upon the entire amount until paid, and all of his costs herein expended.

FARRAR L. McCAIN, Judge.
